GEORGIA UNDERGRADUATE HISTORY CONFERENCE
April 14, 2007

Call for Undergraduate Papers

We invite all students in Georgia colleges and universities to submit outstanding research papers for the Georgia Undergraduate History Conference. This is a terrific opportunity for undergraduates to share their research, meet fellow history geeks, and visit the University of Georgia. We invite proposals for single papers and complete sessions (3 presenters). We also welcome applications from faculty and graduate students who would like to serve as panel commentators.

The conference will be held Saturday, April 14, 2007 from 10AM to 5PM on the historic North Campus of the University of Georgia in Athens. There is no registration fee.

Guidelines: Presentations should be original research roughly fifteen minutes in length. Any historical subject is acceptable, regardless of geography or era. Unfortunately, we are unable to guarantee a spot on the program for submitters. We will notify accepted presenters by February 15, 2007.

Proposals: Please e-mail proposals with presenter’s name, institutional affiliation, year, e-mail address, title of paper, and abstract (250 words or less) to historybetweenthehedges@yahoo.com in Microsoft Word format. Prospective faculty or graduate student commentators should send a copy of their CV and their historical specialty to the same address.

SUBMIT PROPOSALS BY MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 2007
